Stone gave me my first Homburg and told me he bought it because he needed a bucket, but I could have it. He always makes fun of my huge head.

I still wear that Homburg often, and I'd never live it down with him if I called it a top hat.

And both problems had their roots in Pence's hands-off management style and his presidential ambitions - according to my reporting, he just wasn't dialed in (and also got some bad advice, particularly w/ #RFRA)

One of the least-taxed states in the country is Wyoming, and it is shrinking at same rate as NYS. Wyoming has the best business climate rank in the US, while NY is always 48 or 49, so why is WY also losing people? It's not as simple as "we are taxed too much"

Bottom line, a lot of Americans have to get sick and die for coronavirus to tank the Trump economy.

The Democrats' only hope for 2020 victory is a sunk economy. They're talking it down right now.

But their strategy only works if a lot of Americans get sick and die.

It's the typical modus operandi of @politico's @joshgerstein, to leave out context. Notice that he doesn't include the audio of Larry Klayman's (who has his license suspended in DC for 33 months) questions asked, just Roger Stone's answers.

Watch the entire Corsi-Klayman deposition as they harass and badger Roger Stone at his lowest ebb of life, targeting him when he is dying, taking him away from his family for two full days right before he is imprisoned by Trump hating leftists.

Then tell me Corsi is #MAGA.

LOL I like how the right accuses others of patronage... yet they have a cult leader who needs constant approval.

Just watch an press event with Trump and a subordinate.

When the subordinate makes a speech, its now a requirement to worship the cult leader during the speech.

SAMOAN CHIEF FA'ALAGIGA NINA TUA'AU-GLAUDE ENDORSES MIKE BLOOMBERG FOR PRESIDENT

PAGO PAGO — Today, Samoan Chief Fa'alagiga Nina Tua'au-Glaude announced her endorsement of Democratic candidate Mike Bloomberg for President. Chief Tua'au-Glaude is a former delegate for President Obama at the 2008 Democratic National Convention and a former employee of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

"I believe in Mike's message of change for the people of American Samoa — he has the experience and the vision to bring about the change we need - including staving off climate change, which will be devastating to our home," said Chief Tua'au-Glaude. "He has my family's vote, and my village. That's why I am committing my time and effort to electing Mike president of the United States.

Funny how the press pretends it was totally cool that Hunter Biden got rich working for a Ukrainian company which received much of a $3B loan guarantee dad Joe steered to the country and lobbied cabinet officers without required federal registration. Totally cool.

New Yorkers know 1) Bloomberg does not know how to lose and 2) He is only enthusiastic about spending money on himself.

He made the promise to spend at the same time he apologized for Stop and Frisk. Neither was sincere. Don't count on his cash.

It's potentially a huge sum of money and it has Trump concerned. But it's also not the same as spending it for himself because of campaign finance laws. twitter.com/davisusan/stat...

A few takes from many of tonight's #SuperTuesday results: all the money in the world can't buy a nomination, perceived momentum is huge, and people want to vote for a candidate they like and dems like Joe Biden.

I've got a lot of criticism for the Democrat Party but it's refreshing to know the primary voters aren't for sale.

Plenty of Dem leaders can be bought, but not the voters.

His chances were underestimated by a lot of folks, and the volatility up until yesterday speaks to that. But the debate performance + him running as a serious man in effective ads with an unserious social media campaign designed to make him seem cool undermined it.

Donald J. Trump @realDonaldTrump

Mini Mike Bloomberg will now FIRE Tim O'Brien, and all of the fools and truly dumb people who got him into this MESS. This has been the worst, and most embarrassing, experience of his life...and now on to Sleepy Joe!

The President's still got a point, though. This was the most high profile activity of Bloomberg's entire life and his campaign strategy collapsed completely, looking like an amateur effort.

It was his last campaign, and how he'll be remembered: a punchline.

any backroom deals, had never, simply put, played the game.

That individual was Jeff Sessions.

That fact is all you need to know to understand why Donald Trump selected Sessions for the Department of Justice, and why Sessions has followed the course he has in taking on the "Russia collusion" coup effort.

Sessions is the quintessential Eagle Scout. He will follow the rules down to the last subclause and will not make his move until every "t" has been crossed and every "i" dotted.

We saw the first results of this approach last Friday – in dealing with Andrew McCabe, this century's prime example of a "cookie full of arsenic."

A.G. Sessions

Sessions waited until the FBI's Office of Professional Responsibility (which is run by Assistant Director Candice Will, who was appointed by Robert Mueller, of all people) recommended that McCabe be fired. He then had McCabe officially informed beforehand, following established procedure to the letter.

This comes under the rubric of "strategy," a concept unfortunately foreign to too many active conservatives. A large number of cons recognize only one course of action: a headlong charge against the closest target while howling at the top of their lungs. Not

So? Johnson likely surmised correctly that the VPs son working for a foreign recipient of US aid delivered by his dad was a terrible look, but not outright illegal.

Hunter Biden's illegal activity on behalf of a Ukrainian oligarch on the run was widely known only in 2019.

Obama weaponized his national security agencies. They'll do anything.

Nobody is stopping them.

.@IgnatiusPost is right: the Bidens will soon have to talk about Ukraine. But it's pretty far out to think family dynamics excuse the corruption that made Biden's son rich. I tell all in my new book "The Ukraine Hoax" at Amazon. twitter.com/IgnatiusPost/s …

> Biden and his son are going to have a confessional moment on this, sooner or later. Better sooner. For this is a story that most Americans can relate to. It's about a loving father and a son whose life was falling apart. It's about families in pain and the difficulty of keeping faith with people we love. It brings out what's most likable in Biden, if he would let himself explain the story honestly.

The idea of a white moderate trying to lecture and scold Nina Turner about what Dr. King said of the white moderate is in of itself ironic and infuriating, but then you add Chris Cuomo's paternalistic tone. What a nightmare.

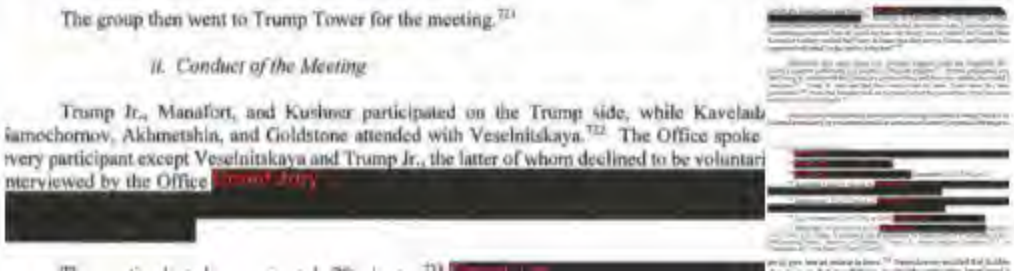
Despite relying on Samochornov's account for key facts, the "no smoking gun" statement from someone "not fond" of Trump & linked to Hillary's State Dept. is not included in Mueller's innuendo-laden account of the meeting

Just compare Mueller dossier to FBI agents interview notes



The group then went to Trump Tower for the meeting.[721]

ii. Conduct of the Meeting

Trump Jr., Manafort, and Kushner participated on the Trump side, while Kaveladz Samochornov, Akhmetshin, and Goldstone attended with Veselnitskaya.[722] The Office spoke every participant except Veselnitskaya and Trump Jr., the latter of whom declined to be voluntari interviewed by the Office [redacted]

Still amazing how the whole truth is still not out.

@DevinNunes with @foxandfriends talks Steele dossier. Many of you know I keep saying he was the curator and just used other people's work.

GCHQ or MI6 disavowed the dossier and sent a letter to prove it. Letter is gone!

Coronavirus is the Democrats' new Russia, their new Ukraine. And nobody will believe them except their zombies.

But know this: The Dems' strategy to defeat @realDonaldTrump requires 100s of thousands of American deaths.

Will one of their nutjobs make it happen, a la Hodgkinson?

@Finneganporter did you just open a bottle, pour, drink, write, and repeat this Power10 article?

A) Jason Sullivan is not a Stone guy, but you repeat this 3 times to make some random point; and
B) Roger Stone is not in jail.

FFS, man. It's not that hard to be accurate

> Sullivan is a former media adviser to the veteran dirty trickster Roger Stone, who was jailed for three years on February 20 for lying to Congress and witness tampering.

MILO BOOK: stonetrial.com

> When something goes wrong—when a citizen lies, violating her oath, or when a judge loses her way, or when, as in this case, both happen in concert—the President is there to remedy it. It is not only in the President's power to grant forgiveness or pardon to the wronged party; it is a moral responsibility, and a core function of his office. It's the whole reason he's elected. All this to say, should it not now be obvious: Do something, Mister President. Do it now.

The more we see of Biden in impromptu moments, the more obvious it becomes that he can't remotely go toe-to-toe with Pres Trump in November.

FEMA appears to have been preparing for weeks for regional Wuhun-like containment actions. The situation remains uncertain, but it appears that either things go rather well or very poorly, with little middle ground; aggressive containment may be the difference.

My work gave me direct, daily contact with former FSU military and security personnel, they quickly realized the benefits of the Soros projects and fingers in everything. Some trying to mange the grassroots non-profits popping up actually sighed in relief. Helped by DC Lefties

Across 30 years, it's become an industry worth billions. DC lefties may have gotten in with good intentions but along came tuitions and luxury cars... then they built office towers from whence to worship the foreign aid grift.

This analysis is fraught pablum. Ukrainian presidents of all stripes have dismissed cabinets innumerable times since independence, blaming others. It's not authoritarian - it's modern Ukrainian. @ZelenskyyUa leans authoritarian because he prefers an effective team? Get serious. twitter.com/Carnegie_Europ …

> This rhetoric is familiar from authoritarian settings where presidents distance themselves from their government when things go badly in an attempt to pin responsibility on others.

A test. People need to know that bad huh? Here's an idea. If you're sick...assume you've got it and then...stay home and get better like the professionals suggest.

I watched a friend who was exposed to CV call half the DC government looking for a test. He spent hours on the phone and I don't know if he ever found one.

I don't need to be tested, but some do.

That's fine. Your friend can't find a test because 25 year olds have all watched too much MSNBC and are out actively trying to get tested for a dry cough. It's not a pandemic it's pandemonium and it's going to kill a lot of ppl in the critical demographic

The student loan crisis is not really about student loans.

It's about tuition costs.

Universities are price-gouging.

The government needs to get out of the student loan business. That will bring costs down drastically.

Trump can help make this happen.

Worse: To profit, many universities are scraping the bottom of the academic barrel and signing up students who have no business in college. After a year of partying and skipping class, they're expelled with thousands in student loan debt they will never repay.

I think they were counting on the economy tanking. But if the economy tanking is attributed to an external threat and the President is perceived as defending the country from that threat, how do you think it plays out?

As I said, the Democrats will set the ball and media will spike it - over and over and over - to define the pandemic, economy as Trump's fault. It's Dem deceive-rinse-repeat activity, as usual, like Russia, Kavanaugh, impeachment.

POTUS needs to outsmart them. It won't be easy.

Hurricanes, earthquakes, now CV. Puerto Rico sure has experienced the upsides and downsides of island existence.

In this case, with added efforts the governor might head off yet another crisis, this time aided by the same isolation geography that has made previous crises worse.

Patricia Mazzei @PatriciaMazzei
Puerto Rico has declared a state of emergency and activated the National Guard, per Gov. @wandavazquezg. She ordered the cancellation or postponement of mass gatherings through March 31. There are no confirmed coronavirus cases on the island yet but several suspected ones.

I truly understand your point of view and I can not image what you have been through! Do you really think @JeffSessions knew he was going to have to recuse? Could it be he was in way over his head and he should of resigned long before he did! Could it been great ignorance?

I'm convinced it was self preservation and cowardice. Carter Page endured. JD Gordon endured. I endured. So many others.

Sessions caved immediately, ran and hid.

None of us who pushed back have an ounce of respect for his cowering. Most blame him for our families' suffering.

If the COVID19 could be detected in the bodies who died of Flu from September to October last year in the USA, and we will know whether this virus was from the United States or not. If the United States is unwilling to spend money on testing, China can help them test 10 samples.

In other words, treat it like the flu.

The panic and hysteria created by the media is criminal.

They are destroying lives, businesses, and the economy to make Trump look bad and again screw with elections.

It is racist to refer to #coronavirus/#Covid19 as "Wuhan virus," "foreign virus" or "Chinese virus." Period.

Elected leaders have a responsibility to refer to this virus by its clinical name

@MarcACaputo Im missing the part in the police report where it says the Democrat was "far less intoxicated than the man with the OD." Also what does methed-up sound like?

Marc Caputo @MarcACaputo
4: Gillum was also far-less intoxicated than the man with the OD & doesn't sound methed-up here: "Fire rescue stated that he was in stable condition and his vitals were normal. Mr. Gillum left the hotel room and returned to his residence without incident."

Can people drop the politics for 2 minutes and have some compassion for other people? I wonder how many Libs are hoping Trump caught the virus and are hoping he dies? If your thinking that? You need to reevaluate your life.

Jill Sammer Fohling @JFohling · 35m

Maybe someone who truly needs to reevaluate his life is someone who said "we should build a wall with spikes on top that are capable of piercing human flesh". Or with fans who scream "Jews won't replace us" & "Jew-S-A". Especially when this "someone" is supposed to a president.

If the COVID19 could be detected in the bodies who died of Flu from September to October last year in the USA, and we will know whether this virus was from the United States or not. If the United States is unwilling to spend money on testing, China can help them test 10 samples.

Faulty reasoning.

Can China prove zero bodies have the virus detected at that time?

If the virus was spreading since that time in the US, there would be thousands of deads by now. In the US, you are free to go to the cemetery or crematoriuns to check if they are working non stop. I am sorry chinese people is slaved by the state and cannot do that in China.

If @POTUS is re-elected and the Dems hold the House, they will impeach Trump 2-3 more times.

They believe the majority thinks as they think and eventually we'll all come around if we're manipulated enough.

If they wear us down, we might as well live in Russia after all.

China did a great job in containing the virus tho

China did do an absolutely amazing job in stopping the new coronavirus dead in its tracks second only to South Korea; however, had China not covered it up during the first three weeks the final number of infections would have been 5% of what it is now.... Meaning no pandemic.

Beatrice tan @sexybeastt911 · 15m
True. Actually this virus started in November. The only problem I have with china bashing comments is that this results in asian people all over the world being scapegoated and hated on for something the government did wrong

Kudos to the teacher who gave my daughter a Z (equivalent of 2 Fs) because she missed a single test due an absence for a fever. That brought her grade down from a 93 to an 82.

Way to reinforce healthy decisions in an era of cornavirus (which my kid probably doesn't have)

Do you want to continue to gloat, or should I continue to find instances of Republicans not living up to their standards of behavior for the rest of us? The drugs are the more scandalous part of this, and drug habits, as we're coming to learn now white suburbanites are addicts...

Everybody broke out laughing; he smiled and walked away. I've watched everything he's done ever since.

The Chinese Communist Party has always been adept at lying to cover their murders. What's remarkable here is the US Democrats and their conjugal media repeating CCP propaganda because they hate Trump more than they love America.

The Wuhan virus has exposed them.

- February 25: "CDC and my Administration are doing a GREAT job of handling Coronavirus."
- February 25: "I think that's a problem that's going to go away... They have studied it. They know very much. In fact, we're very close to a vaccine."

Are virus experts preparing for a "St Patrick's Outbreak" where thousands fall ill after insisting it was important to go out to bars and get drunk on the holiday, only to return home and infect family and friends?

Who is to say they will go home to infect anyone? Why presume these things in to restrict American life? Isn't it possible that many will not come into contact with elderly or at risk ppl? The death rate is not clear. Nor is the # of asymptomatic ppl. This has an enormous cost.

Don't bring outside clothes/shoes through the plastic area. Don't handle them without gloves; never touch them and then touch your face.

The reason why the Democrats' conjugal media are all asking the same question about the Chinese virus is they're all reading from the same script. Like parrots. Except not as smart as parrots, which are actually quite bright and can open peanuts.

John we live near the US-Canada border and it might not be possible to cross. It's best to get him to North America, for sure, but be prepared for the possibility that he may have to hover in Canada for a bit. It's a nice place.

Burr and Warner once sent a letter suggesting false accusations about me to my client. "Oops," Burr's aide said, "that was supposed to go to your attorney." I lost the client, which was their intention all along.

They knew my attorney. We spent hours together at SSCI.

Dear @SenatorBurr:

After what you personally did to destroy my family and business, I'm going to enjoy your roasting immensely.

I always thought you were just a dullard. Now the whole nation knows you're flat out evil.

You will burn now, and in Hell. I'm buying popcorn.

@SenatorBurr knows: when accused, invite your own ethics inquiry. This does 3 things:

1) He started a long, slow clock on his own removal
2) “I can’t comment on an ongoing investigation”
3) “I’m so innocent I called for my own investigation”

All the guilty in Congress do this.

To be honest no one can represent the world. Fake , brainwashed is not convincing anything, it's your opinions. The world can have different opinions, that's ok. Insulting is low. Most angry people on internet have a difficult life.

Yharnam @PraiselordgabN · Mar 18

You are not even allowed to have an opinion , except if it's the same as PRC ;)

Layla @layla2475 · Mar 18

No, PRC have many opinions. We have 1.4 billion population. How can it be all the same opinion.

It is good to see many moronic westerners on Twitter, so simple minded and easily manipulated by the media. Europe is used to be a great place with many outstanding thinkers, now they seem to stop thinking or even looking at this world. They are living in dreams.

Maybe. But this was likely the toughest interview she'll ever face & the fact that she a) agreed to do it, b) prepared well and c) did a decent job, considering, speaks well of her survival capacity.

She may have been DOA but after this appearance she lives to fight another day.

Probably would need temporary capital controls. Then impose blockchain ID system on treasuries and Corp bonds so they are traceable. Anything held by the Chinese is then traceable and they have to eat the cost. Then China can't resell to third party because it would be worthless.

He performs admirably in a grave crisis. Just wish he didn't pretend every issue was a grave crisis and try to use the same executive strong-arming, anti-legislator playbook when it's neither called for nor needed nor appropriate.

Not to diminish but that is 47 people out of 925,000 or .005% we all know this is bad and there are a lot of unknowns, but let's keep a perspective.

Ally @Scooter_212 · 6h

It's actually 47 positive cases out of ONLY maybe 300-350 people they have tested (I believe it's around 508ish tested but tests are still pending) Not the numbers you are using if you want to "keep perspective." Meaning about 11%-13% of those TESTED are coming back positive.

release his returns? Does Vlad pay you in rubles or dollars? Can he still pay you now even under the current circumstances?

Jim Osborne @jim_osborne · 2h

Because he doesn't have to! You keep insisting he release his PRIVATE information as if you're entitled to it-the only thing that would entitle ANYONE to that without his consent is evidence of a crime and a court finding on appeal that he no longer gets to keep it private.

I normally criticize Poloncarz loudly but he's doing good work on this crisis - credit where it's due.

As a frequent critic, I think sitting here quietly while he's doing an important job well would be dishonest.

No. Larry Klayman and Jerry Corsi need to stop torturing the Stone and Caputo families with this $25M BS lawsuit. It's cost my family tens of 1000s of dollars.

I don't see any difference between them and Mueller. The legal system empowers both abusers.

The ventilators that keep the influenza deaths at only 300 per day will now be used for covid-19 cases. Influenza deaths will skyrocket as well.

But, all the anti-vape things have to stop. And allow resumption of mail purchasing. You can't make people go cold turkey during a recession. Suicide rates would spike. Plus less need to worry about vaping now: HS kids are home.

Small businesses run at 8% margins. Some less.

That means you're open for 12 months.

You get paid one month a year. The other 11 months you pay employees; rent; expenses.

Closed for one month and you make no money that year.

Closed for two months and you're bankrupt.

My friend laid off 300 people Monday. He's inconsolable.

3 friends are laid off. My other friend took a 50% pay cut. Another got furloughed, prays to go back someday. Another is working third shift to keep in rotation. Even he's watching his back.

And everybody is exhausted.

To be entirely fair, this being a novel virus I think some leeway should be provided to people. We're all learning about this from scratch in real time. More and better data will change our understanding. It's not anyone's fault that with better data the predictions change.

When a novel virus is on a list of situations for which a preparedness plan is needed yet ignored, and when we can see an oncoming novel virus and still have little to no government preparation, we have a significant failure.

Hard not to notice that the more Americans hear directly from @realDonaldTrump, without the biased media filters, the higher his approval ratings go.

I wonder if that might explain why some in the media are now calling for TV networks to stop airing his press conferences? 🧐🤔

I ran the GOP Governor campaign against @NYGovCuomo in 2010. We dug into everything. Everytime we got to where the damning information was supposed to be, we found nothing but the smell of soap and Lysol.

He's been cleaning up his messes for 30 years, waiting for this moment.

During marathon day of meetings earlier this week, President Trump continued outreach across the country regarding coronavirus & phoned former Yankees baseball player Alex Rodriguez. Multiple sources tell ABC, the president spoke to ARod from the Oval Office via me & @KFaulders

A source close to Rodriguez told @ABC the call with Trump was "pleasant" adding that Trump was seeking thoughts from ARod about the coronavirus response. Sources say there was no discussion of AROD or his fiancé Jennifer Lopez taking on any official effort.

Roswell Park's external affairs department is 100% Democrat because the department head is a political appointee selected from Democrat Party loyalists - it's not based on experience or capacity.

My question was whether they hold themselves, as execs, to a different, lower standard than their employees. In this case it may be politically motivated but it's still a power play by hospital execs that live by different rules than they foist on their employees.

Bob Mangold @bobmangold · 2h

Exactly, can someone point to a prominent article where the author clearly took the China data as accurate? I see it being used, because it's what we have, but almost always with caveats.

Roswell docs and execs think they're Buffalo royalty and, in a way, they're right. The media and establishment types here think Roswell walks on water.

Sometimes they sink, and the elite just pretend it didn't happen. As a result, you can smell the hubris from the suburbs.

There are 2 completely different viewpoints about the shutdown. Those that haven't lost their jobs telling us to shut up and those that have lost their job or own a biz at risk begging us to speak up. On today's show we will read some of the many messages we've received.

Hard to see Bernie giving way to Cuomo who didn't run and earned zero votes in the primary. At least Biden can claim he won a lot of primaries and delegates.

A lot of people keep asking this. I do think it's possible to follow all the guidelines and still golf. Just like you can follow the guidelines and still go for a run or other forms of exercise. Following the guidelines is the key part...

> Maryalice Demler ✓ @WGRZmaryalice
> Q. Golf courses in other counties are open. Why is that? A. Erie County courses NOT open. Other courses can stay open as long as they extend tee times to comply with social distancing. Also you cannot remove flag sticks. Club bars & restaurants still cannot serve. @WGRZ

Nearly 275,000 people were hospitalized for H1N1 yet we were never warned about a collapse of our healthcare system.

Why?

Because the MSM protected Obama but is now creating panic and fear on far lower numbers to damage Trump in November.

It really is political and simple.

Not the press's job to agree w/ all the lies & dangerous statement the president spews. Their job is to hold public servents accountable to the public. He has enough sycophants around him. Isn't unfair to read his own fucked up statements back to him & ask for explanation.

Ok. Point me to a video of her behaving similarly with any Democrat, ever?

I'll wait. We've got until the end of April.

Also: while I know why you say @POTUS is afraid of smart black women, can you point to any white male reporters he's treated similarly?

Because I sure can.

So it is not about her being rude, it is about her being rude to a Republican. Maybe she is being rude to a rude president regardless of his party. Or maybe she is trying to cut through his BS to get to her question and get an answer.

This isn't a good argument. Taking the high end of the range, you're saying the flu killed 64,000 over 6 months, or a bit over 10,000 a month. Coronavirus has killed 2500 over 2 weeks, and the number is doubling every 3 or 4 days as the disease spreads.

greg wa @xgwakex · 10m

We should see around 10,000 dead by the end of the week and 40,000 by the end of next, unless the malaria meds work well and are widely available. If the same rate holds going into April and distancing/meds don't have a significant impact, we'll have more than 64K dead.

I agree, my husband and I had date night last night at home and ordered in!

It was nice not too have to cook and we had our teens serve us, and gave them a big tip.

Supporting our local businesses now, insures that they will still be there when all of this is over!

Democrats need scores of Americans to die and our economy to tank in order to defeat Trump.

Ask Democrats like Jennifer: how many Americans does she need to die? 100K? 500k? A million? And how bad does she want the economy to get - a depression?

> Jennifer Rubin @JRubinBlogger
> If we lose 100,000 to C-19 we will have lost > 2X Americans killed in Vietnam. This is the magnitude of the Trump fiasco. If 200,000 then =WWI plus 2 Vietnams. Since WWII no president will have lost as many Americans on his watch. May also have worst neg growth/unemployment qter

Democrats need scores of Americans to die and our economy to tank in order to defeat Trump.

Ask Democrats like Jennifer: how many Americans does she need to die? 100K? 500k? A million? And how bad does she want the economy to get - a depression?

Jennifer Rubin @JRubinBlogger

If we lose 100,000 to C-19 we will have lost > 2X Americans killed in Vietnam. This is the magnitude of the Trump fiasco. If 200,000 then =WWI plus 2 Vietnams. Since WWII no president will have lost as many Americans on his watch. May also have worst neg growth/unemployment qter

It should not require the Governor of Ohio calling the President of the United States to get the Food and Drug Administration to allow a company to sterilize masks in large quantities. All these bureaucratic bottlenecks should be permanently fixed in the next phase.

I don't like this guy a whit but he's got to be wholly exhausted. News groups can rotate people covering but there's only one County Executive.

If I were advising him - or even Cuomo or Pres Trump - I'd likely propose an approach like this at some point to preserve their health.

Getting some heat for my defense of Cuomo and our local Dem county leader. I don't like these guys; I've worked hard against both.

But my family really needs them to do well now & I'm listening closely to them for my family's sake.

Carping at them does no good. Damn politics.

Also, maybe don't say this to someone whose literal job is to help research infectious diseases.

Watch as the Democrats cancel their convention, change the rules, swap out a confused Biden for an exaggerated Cuomo - and their conjugal media say "meh."

That's the play, not this smokescreen BS.

Ask @JoeTrippi and @nortonjules who are working out the details.

Dumbest thing they could do. What has Cuomo done to make himself a NATIONAL candidate? The Gov. of NY? Do they really think that will win them votes in Minn, Wisc, NM, and Nevada? Does he turn out African-Americans and college students? Press only paying attention to themselves.

I like Larceny better: more caramel undertones than Woodford and more consistent in taste than Jefferson's at sometimes half the price. Saving money became our family mission after Russia investigations destroyed us. We discovered lots of bargains without sacrifice, like Larceny.

I've worked in disaster recovery 10 years. Government ALWAYS gets it wrong until it gets it right. I'm as willing to forgive a Dem as I'm eager to forgive a Republican. As recovery hits it's stride, critics can focus and critique.

Anyone who is unforgiving now is new to this.

.@BretBaier is good for the soul. Quotes Churchill: If you're going through Hell, keep going. Then he says: Another day passes and we're another day closer to the end of this.

That's how to do journalism in a pandemic. Reporters who must learn from this know exactly who you are.

Statewide resource management is practiced across the country. Other governors are doing this.

It's humane policy until a shortage emerges in an area which surrendered resources. Unless we split the state - which we should, ideally - we can expect this.

Coumo said he had a shortage when they had 2000 ventilators sitting in a warehouse. This doesn't sit well with me. Upstate NY should not have all of their ventilators taken away. Are they going to pull the plug on people using them here?

Todd Aldinger, Esq. @ToddAldinger · Apr 3

Once they are down there, they aren't coming back. No one is going to take someone off a ventilator in NYC & ship it back to EC. Then add in the downtime for transportation back and forth. Can it be done responsibly? Sure. Are there HUGE risks locally? Most definitely.

I don't want used ventilators back. I prefer the new and unused ones we will get. The risks are huge, all around, on all of this. But exaggerating what is being done is irresponsible and wrong. I rely upon local leaders to assure this is done right and I believe they will do it.

Paycheck Protection Program because we never borrowed money nor opened a credit card with them. This is clearly against program rules.

I read where BOA is now on the list to accept the loans. At first, they didn't. Try again?

Their decision to favor only their borrowers is a few hours old. It's about @bankofamerica getting their money first.

Small businesses need to know BOA is not their friend - even after almost 2 decades they will break the rules to screw you.

.@stevenmnuchin1 @SBAJovita @realDonaldTrump Our small business banked with @BankofAmerica for 17 years - they declined our participation in the Paycheck Protection Program because we never borrowed money nor opened a credit card with them. This is clearly against program rules.

You know what's more pathetic than this #Tweet? The fact that entire @GOP & @FoxNews provides the material to create such a piece. @TheDailyShow & @Trevornoah aren't look to just "make fun" of only Republicans, but when the material is placed on a tee it makes it easy to hit.

Agree. I read Crime and Progress twice by Simpson. Not one mention Deripaska was Steele's client. Omissions throughout the book. It was bad. Seems like an important detail missed by everyone.

Simpson's book was fiction, written to assist a narrative shift that Mueller's doddering congressional testimony scuttled.

And @DavidCornDC's book was pure fantasy - Lord of the Rings without wizards, crawling with hairy-footed leftist liars.

How Chinese regime propaganda works:
1. Set the Party line in Beijing.
2. Spread it through government channels.
3. Make it official in #CCP's People's Daily.
4. Have @WHO director Tedros aim it at United States.
5. Inject theme into mainstream
6. Repeat.

REVIEW & OUTLOOK

By The Editorial Board

A friend of ours who voted for President Trump sent us a note recently saying that she had stopped watching the daily White House briefings of the coronavirus task force. Why? Because they have become less about defeating the virus and more about the many feuds of Donald J. Trump.

The briefings began as a good idea to educate the public about the dangers of the virus, how Americans should change their behavior, and what the government is doing to combat it. They showed seriousness of purpose, action to mobilize public and private resources, and a sense of optimism. Mr. Trump benefitted in the polls not because he was the center of attention but because he showed he had put together a team of experts working to Test your level of awareness: Can you see both #coronavirus movies at the same time or just one of them? These two movies can never be resolved. They will both live forever.

A notable shift downward in projected deaths from coronavirus is already being spun as "experts were wrong!!" instead of "hey, the thing experts said would drive down deaths might be driving down deaths."

The problem with this take is that Obama consistently asked for funding to replenish the stock piles (as evident by this clip). At the time, congress was blocking everything.

So it is a bit rich to blame Obama when constant requests for funding were purposely obstructed.

The problem with this take is that Obama consistently asked for funding to replenish the stock piles (as evident by this clip). At the time, congress was blocking everything.

So it is a bit rich to blame Obama when constant requests for funding were purposely obstructed.

Ok. Let's be specific with our criticisms. Obama repeatedly asked for money to replenish the stockpile (since 2011) and republicans in congress denied those requests (then allowed the sequester). Without the funds, what specifically should he have done to replenish the stockpile?

Budget figures show that in 2009 the stockpile budget was about 477 million, not as much as it had been previously, but enough to start replenishing the masks especially. During the Obama admin, mask totals went from over 110 million to less than 12 million masks.

But if you look at Obama's budget requests, they were far in excess of 477 million. The CDC specifcally said they needed to increase to $655 million to replenish the stockpile. Congress only appropriated $522 million despite the warnings.pic.twitter.com/CYKevLsjrY

So you're ignorant enough to believe that Obama did NOTHING to replenish the stock of masks and other supplies because he was awarded a 530 million dollar budget instead of 650??? If so we should stop now because you'll literally 😂😂😂 believe anything if it fits your narrative.

I don't believe he did nothing. I believe he needed a certain amount of money to replenish the stockpile and he didnt get it. He made do with what he had and then ebola happened. He then again asked for money to replenish the stockpile. Things were made worse with the sequester.

Again......Incorrect, in 2013 the Obama administration called for a $48 million dollar cut to the stock pile due to the "current fiscal climate". So it sounds like he wasn't so handcuffed by getting less than he requested a few years prior.

Yes. CDC asked for a reduction in the stockpile that year. They wanted to reallocate funds to stockpile anti-biotics for anthrax and small-pox. They were locked into a sequester at the time and had to shift around funds in order to fund priorities (in this case bioterrorism).

Stock piling for small pox lmao. A disease eradicated in 1980 per the CDC. Don't think that's true at all but if it is that's one hell of a decision Obama made there!! Maybe he should have been replenishing the 100 million masks he apparently felt weren't important

The problem with this take is that Obama consistently asked for funding to replenish the stock piles (as evident by this clip). At the time, congress was blocking everything.

So it is a bit rich to blame Obama when constant requests for funding were purposely obstructed.

ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH

The Budget includes $138 million for Environmental Health, which is $43 million below FY 2010, due to targeted programmatic reductions. Within this total, $9 million in the Prevention Fund finances a portion of the Environmental Public Health Tracking Program.

CDC's Environmental Health programs prevent illness, disabilities, and premature death caused by non-infectious, non-occupational environmental related factors. CDC has been successful in reducing the level of childhood lead poisoning. The Budget consolidates the asthma, childhood lead poisoning and healthy homes programs into one comprehensive program of $33 million, which is a decrease of $33 million below FY 2010. In addition, the Budget eliminates the Built Environment Program and reduces the Climate Change Program by $1 million to

IMPROVING PREPAREDNESS AND RESPONSE TO TERRORISM

The FY 2012 Budget provides $1.45 billion for biodefense and emergency preparedness activities in CDC, a decrease of $70 million below FY 2010. Within that total $643 million is requested for the Public Health and Emergency Preparedness (PHEP) grants, a decrease of $72 million below FY 2010. The PHEP program will provide nearly $9 billion in funding from 2001-2012 for these efforts. These grants support local public health preparedness efforts, and are coordinated with the Hospital Preparedness grants administered by the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response (ASPR). Great progress in preparing for public health emergencies has been made with the Federal investment in the State and local level. Additionally, ASPR and CDC are working together to improve the coordination of these grants at both the Federal and local levels. Due to enhanced alignment of preparedness grants within HHS, States will be able to make more efficient use of these resources, which is imperative in a constrained budget environment.

In FY 2012, $146 million is provided to support improving the CDC Preparedness and Response Capability, $19 million below FY 2010. The Budget does not include funding for the Centers for Public Health Preparedness and the Advanced Practice Centers.

The Strategic National Stockpile request is $655 million, an increase of $39 million over FY 2010 to support increasing product replacement costs, acquire new Fascinating to watch the media begin to prep the battlefield in anticipation of Trump opening up the economy. There will quite obviously be mass media exposure of every coronavirus death once Trump opens it up.

Because our media is detestable.

After the bogus Russia investigations Dennis, I know you and your partners and associates at @LippesMathias are the reason our family is still standing. Thank you forever. I'll never forget you.

Now let's all get back to work. #GBW

Nope. Never. @BarBillTavern or the wings might as well be chain restaurant poison.

Even though I'm not far from Barbill, I've always liked duffs better for wings.

911 Bloomfield in South Buffalo. Also Adolf's Old First Ward Tavern is crushing it as well. Don't get me wrong, Bar Bill is good, just not as good.

When I can finally come home for a visit I'm headed to 911. Thanks for the heads up.

Except now I'm homesick AND hungry.

Couple tips: you will wait about an hour for the wings no matter how busy (can't recommend going on a Friday or Saturday night, it's a small place and it gets slammin), so order the fries as an app. Cash only at this place. -->

They only do mild, med, and hot. The sauce is outta control. We don't know what's in it, but it's legit the best sauce I've ever had.
